

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Real del Monte has increased its nominal capital to $10,000,000, divided into 100,000 shares.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg reports that all Russian officers on leave of absence have been ordered to join their regiments immediately.

Sheriff Hill of Carson yesterday arrested the Indian at Truckee who was the principal in the recent Indian murder at Carson. The prisoner confessed to having done the stabbing.

The New York Bulletin's Washington special revives the rumor that Ramsey of Minnesota will be appointed Secretary of War, and states that McCrary will be appointed to the bench at his own request.

The National Committee of the Greenback-Labor party calls for a meeting of representative members of the party at Washington on January 8th, 1880, for the purpose of agreeing upon a time and place for a national convention.

The New York Tribune's Washington special says: It is believed that Southern men are preparing to attempt to obtain the control of the Presidency by throwing out the vote of Republican States in the electoral proceedings at the capital.

The levy of an assessment of 10 cents a share on Wells-Fargo is denounced severely by those who know that the company owns no ground, and wonder is expressed that the Board still permits itself to be used as a medium for swindling innocent people into buying worthless paper.

The New York Republican journals say that prominent Republicans will go to Louisiana to stump the State, having been invited by men of all parties. The Democratic papers, however, declare that none will go. "The solid South" is to be the war cry next year, and the Republicans have no disposition to beat themselves by making the South unsteady.

The Secretary of the California Republican State Central Committee under instructions from the committee, has telegraphed to the President and Secretary of the National Republican Committee asking that the place of George O. Gorham in the National Committee be declared vacant on account of his action during the recent State campaign.

The Third District Court of Oakland, Judge McKee on the bench, was the scene of a disgraceful assault yesterday morning. J. W. Dwinelle and G. W. Tyler were arguing a case, in the course of which, as is reported, Dwinelle was provoked by Tyler's well-known bullying tactics into a very rough verbal reply, when Tyler struck him in the face, knocked him down and kicked him in a brutal manner. He was finally seized by the bystanders and Dwinelle was assisted to his feet. Judge McKee fined the parties $50 each and adjourned Court.

STAND SUIT.

The Central Pacific has refused to pay its tax to Eureka county, because the road was assessed at $9,000 per mile. It is the duty of the State, through its Attorney General and Controller, to act in conjunction with the officials of Eureka county to compel the railroad to pay the tax, and to also enforce the penalty. The Company can be made to settle, and the suit ought to be pushed as rapidly as possible.

The Company have also refused to pay their tax in Lander county. They paid $2,366 66 on land improvements, etc., leaving $5,406 75 due on the track and telegraph lines.

The editor of the Chicago News has verified the correctness of the dispatch received from General Robert Toombs of Atlanta, Georgia, on the 12th instant. The dispatch as received has been compared with the original and found to be correct in every word, hence there was no garbling in the transmission. The closing sentences are: "He (Grant) fought for his country honorably and won. I fought for mine and lost. I am ready to try it over again. Death to the Union!"

The accounts of the elopement of General Sickles' daughter continue conflicting. The gentleman who furnished the particulars of the rumor on Sunday said Tuesday that he had the report from several different sources. He also said that an account of the affair had appeared in a Paris daily paper—Le Gaulois—and that it had been the chief topic of conversation upon the European steamers at the time.

WELCOME TO BAYARD.

DELAWARE RECEIVES BACK HER SENATOR WITH GREAT ENTHUSIASM.

Reception at Wilmington—A Grand Procession and a Speech at the Opera House—Contracts at Home and Abroad.

Senator Bayard, of Delaware, upon his recent return from Europe, was given a grand reception by the citizens of Wilmington. There was a grand procession, and block after block was illuminated and decorated. The Senator was escorted to the Opera House. The large hall was crowded. Seated on the stage were Governor J. W. Hall of Delaware, Senator Cochran, Congressman Martin, ex-Governors Cochran, Ross and Saulsbury, and nearly all of the distinguished men of the State in commercial business.

After the great audience had been called to order by the chairman, Dr. L. P. Bush, the address of welcome was delivered. Senator Thomas F. Bayard was then introduced, and after the uproarious applause had ceased, said:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen, Fellow Citizens, Friends All—My chief desire and my main effort at this moment is to let you simply and clearly understand the quiet, deep and sincere happiness with which this welcome, so spontaneous and expressive, fills my breast. Strong language is not needed, nor is it often used, where really strong feeling seeks for utterance. Nor shall I seek the aid of rhetoric or extravagance of phrase to convey to your hearts the simple message which beats in mine for deliverance. This is the town where I was born, as was my father before me, and in this room is many a face known to me from my childhood. In full view of those who now surround me my life has been lived and my income and outgoings all known. When, therefore, the judgment of such a court comes to be passed after a full half century of trial and experience in private life and in public service and it is rendered in sentences so full of approbation, affection and respect as your worthy and venerable chairman has addressed to me, what must be my emotions and how full to overflowing must I feel my cup of blessings and of honor. For this occasion is not called for by official proclamation; it is not an outburst of a friendly but fierce zeal of political enthusiasm. It is not commanded by authority nor suggested by any design of commercial or pecuniary advantage; it is merely the natural flow of kind feeling between human hearts, checked and pent up in its daily action for a little time by our separation, only to gather new and stronger headway when that separation was ended and our hands could again clasp each other. As a rule real feeling fears to show itself lest its genuineness should be questioned, but there are times and moments when it is well to throw off the veil of reserve and give free reign to the impulse of friendly feeling.

HAPPINESS AT HOME, MISERY ABROAD.

I feel and surely you who hear me all feel that we are here in an atmosphere of loving kindness, longing only for peace on earth and good will to man, and no cloud of doubt or taint or distrust or suspicion intervenes. Ah, what an armor is friendship! What shield or buckler so protective? What are the stupendous ironclads of Great Britain, the marvellous artillery of Prussia, and the vast military establishments that prop up European thrones, maintain dominion and keep crowns on heads and often heads on royal shoulders, drawing the land, as they do of the fruits of industry and labor, and devouring the substance of the people—what are these compared with the cheap defence, the unbought security which a Republican citizen feels when he is surrounded by the atmosphere of law, the breath of a self-respecting, self-governing community of free men? For the triumphs of violence are temporary and leave the true work of government to be afterward performed, and with greater difficulty. This summer I have been looking across the Atlantic, thinking of the country I could not see; contrasting what I did see of the daily lives of men and women in other lands with that of my own, and when so often I heard "Labor with a groan and not a voice," and realized the abuses and injustice of class privilege, whereby the insidious bar of humble birth was kept and fastened on men from the cradle to the grave, I turned, as if for purer air, to the American States, where the noble equities of humanity are acknowledged and respected, and where the one great and essential equality, the equality of opportunity, is secured to all. And experience and reflection, with increased opportunities for comparison with other countries and systems of government, bring me only to a higher appreciation of the generosity, justice and moral grandeur of the principles upon which our own was founded.

PUBLIC PRINCIPLES ENGRAFFED ON PRIVATE HONOR.

But my senses of admiration for our system of government was accompanied by an apprehensive realization of the conditions under which only it can be practically not permanently maintained. And the conviction grows stronger and clearer daily that such a government can only be maintained by the exercise and employment of the higher and better qualities of human nature. It is a government of laws emanating from popular will, but that will must be for honest and worthy ends, accomplished by honorable means. It is controlled by public opinion, but that opinion must be the intelligent result of knowledge carefully acquired, and deliberation, and not the unstable froth of tumult and gusty passion; and to make public principles secure they must be engrained on private honor. The wishes of an intelligent and upright constituency must be reflected by intelligent and upright representatives. A faithful representative should rather displease his constituents than consent to that which injures them. It is his duty fully and freely to account to them, but not to conceal his true opinions for fear of their displeasure, for his enlightened conscience cannot be disregarded without injury to them and his entire loss of usefulness. To maintain this government of ours such are some of the conditions, and it is upon the self-protecting elements of society that we must rely.

THE VOICE OF DELAWARE.

As Burke, the great Irish statesman and philosopher, finally said, "Flattery is not friendship, and to mislead is not to serve." The line of my public service to which our friend, Dr. Bush, has so kindly alluded, has been in assisting to carry on the national government of the grand union of States, among whom so contentedly and securely our little commonwealth is anchored fast. Whenever I have spoken or voted in the Senate for new and stronger ties of union between the sections or the States have I not echoed the voice of Delaware? When schemes of financial unwisdom, or something worse, threatened to weaken the credit or tarnish the pledged faith of our country, and my vote and voice were heard in unyielding opposition, did I not then echo the voice of Delaware? When the insidious poison of false money and a vicious currency was proposed, and I stood in uncompromising attitude demanding "honest dollars for honest men," did I not echo the voice of Delaware? And when I pleaded for indissoluble Union of indissoluble and equal States, do I not speak in the voice of Delaware? And when I shall prove faithful to such things—when the welfare and the happiness of the whole country and of every State shall be shrouded into a narrow and fatal devotion to the interests of a section or of a policy of animosity which must destroy the spirit of American union and nationality—then I shall no longer be worthy of your confidence nor a true representative of the State of Delaware.

WANTED, A LONG GOVERNMENT.

I have an ambition to confess to you. It is to possess the unsuspecting confidence of the people of Delaware and to retain it. I wish to make our Government strong, and the best way is to make it wise, honest and just, that it shall be loved in the North and in the South, in the East and in the West, with "that perfect love that casteth out fear." I cannot forbear at the risk of prolonging unduly these remarks, to join with you in joyful gratulation upon the recovery of confidence in all the groups and circles of dependent industries in our country. To join with you in grateful acknowledgement of the bounty and favor of Providence is so blessing our "basket and store." When He has seen fit to drown in floods the crops in the British Islands and in large portions of Europe. Truly we are a favored people, and in the full tide of that prosperity that seems fairly to have set in let us, while availing ourselves of it, keep a sharp eye upon the dangers of overtrading and wild speculation, from the results of which we have so lately suffered. With prudent counsels, well considered economies and steadily prosecuted reforms, with suspicions and ill will between our own people discouraged and put an end to, we shall have before us an era of prosperity which should gladden the heart of every man who loves this country.

Pardon this long speech, and accept the thanks I have so feebly expressed, but yet so deeply feel.

STATE NEWS.

WHITE PINE COUNTY.

(Reflex of the 15th instant.)

The jail at Hamilton is empty.

The Eagle Mining Co.'s mill at Oscola will soon start up.

Jas. O'Brien has sold ten acres at placer ground at Oscola.

A list of subscribers to the fund for the defense of Hoyt is published under the significant heading: "Good Jurymen in the Comins-Hoyt-Libol-Suit."

Speaking of the Comins-Hoyt Libel case the Reflex says: It now appears that Mr. Comins has not a copy of the Cherry Creek Independent in his possession. The chances for the case falling through look favorable.

Judging from what we saw at the mouth of the Main Tunnel of the Martin White Company yesterday, it will be a month or more before the Ingersoll drill can be used in driving the tunnel. The engine has not arrived and material comes in slowly. The work of preparation progresses accordingly.

LINCOLN COUNTY.

(Record of the 15th inst.)

Eugene Blair has opened a butcher shop at Bristol.

The bondsmen of Robt. Frazer have surrendered him to the custody of the Sheriff.

The Hillside furnace, for the week ending November 12th, reduced 360 tons of ore.

J. N. Curtis & Co., coal contractors, contemplate erecting four new stone coal kilns.

The long, underground flue arrester, in connection with the refinery or cupel furnaces at Bristol, is nearly completed.

Michael Burns, an old resident of Bristol, and an employee of the Hillside Company, died last Thursday of pneumonia, after an illness of two days.

The cupel furnaces for the Hillside Company arrived the latter part of the week and the work of grading for their erection has already been commenced.

The excitement in regard to gold and silver mining in Mexico has reached Picoche, and a number of the restless spirits are already fitting themselves out to make the trip.

We understand that the celebrated trotting horse, St. Julian, owned by Bob Morrow, who exhibited him in a trot before General Grant in which he beat Rarus' time, is the horse that was presented to Morrow by Tom Andrews, at the time Tom was foreman of the Raymond & Ely mine.

EUREKA FUNDS.

(Sentinel 10th.)

The sum total of the tax which went delinquent in this county yesterday is $7,009 01. Of this amount $5,591 25 is due from the Central Pacific Railroad Company, leaving but $1,502 76 due from other sources.

The decision in the case of Cohn vs. the E. & P. Railroad has been revised by the Supreme Court. Mr. Cohn had been awarded $1,500 for damages sustained on the Ruby Hill Railroad.

The Central Pacific's locomotives that pass Palisade have light snow-plows attached.

The dividend of the Eureka Consolidated Mining Company for the month ending on the 20th inst. has been fixed at $1 per share. This is a falling off $1 from last month, but it must not be regarded as indicating a decline in the productivity of the mine. We take it to mean that the sinking or the new shaft has been finally agreed upon by the Board of Directors, and that a large surplus is to be carried over from month to month to meet the expenses of the work. In this view we are disposed to look upon the reduction of the dividend as a very encouraging circumstance for the future work of Eureka district. The estimated cost of the new shaft is $500,000.

TWO JOBS.

(Sentinel 15th.)

Work is still progressing slowly on the Hot Creek mill.

The Gila has shipped bullion the past week valued at $5,169 99.

The shipments of the Tybo Con. for the past week amounts to 4,300.

HUMBOLDT NEWS.

(Silver State 18th.)

The Ohio mine, at Rebel creek, is bonded to San Francisco men. The price agreed upon is $75,000, which is to be paid in seven days from this date. It is the intention of the purchasers to build a mill on the property immediately, as there is ore enough in sight to run it.

The stages which run between this place and Boise City have commenced running on Winter time. The stage leaves here as usual, upon the arrival of the eastern-bound passenger train, and arrives from the North in time for the west-bound train, but it takes a day longer to make the trip between here and Silver City.

The trial of Frank Schnelka, the alleged counterfeit, begins to-day in the United States District Court at Carson. Several witnesses from this place were subpoenaed to appear at the trial, among whom are Sheriff Miller, J. O. Ivory, Chas. Diehl, George Berger and George Williams, who left last evening for Carson.

Sheriff Miller, who returned Sunday evening from Pleasant Valley, in the southern part of the county, informs us that cattle are dying of starvation in that part of the country. The grass-hoppers and drought last summer left the range, which is usually good, almost as bare as an ash heap, and stock running at large, can find nothing but sage brush to subsist on.

S. B. Palmer, generally known as "Brick" brought some specimens of ores from the Bullhorn and Mary Wilder mines in Paradise to this office yesterday. That from the Bullhorn consists of native silver, ruby silver and quartz, and was taken out of the mine at the surface. He says there is over six feet of ore in the ledge at that depth, some of which assays over $12,000 in silver and gold to the ton. That from the Mary Wilder was taken out near the surface, and it assays over $6,000 to the ton.

BELMONT NEWS.

(Courier, 15th.)

Wood is selling at $8 per cord.

The postal order business of Belmont is astonishingly large, considering our small population.

Work is progressing favorably in the mines of Danville District. Some very high grade ore is being extracted.

The Highbridge mill will drop stamps on ore from the Belmont mine as soon as some necessary repairs are made.

A new 10-stamp mill is being built near the hoisting works of the Belmont Mining Company for the purpose of concentrating low grade ores. Superintendent Hogan informs us that this mill will be ready to drop stamps by the first of next January.

The Alexander mine never looked better than at present. Sufficient ore is being taken from the open cut on the surface to run the 20-stamp mill, and this is so easily extracted that three men can keep the mill supplied with ore. This cut is over sixty feet wide and is all ore; in fact the whole hill seems to be nothing else. If the pulverizer proves a success the Alexander will boom and Grantsville will be one of the liveliest camps in Eastern Nevada.

Our merchants feel good over the fact that the Nevada Central Railroad will soon be completed, and also over the prospect of the extension of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad to Walker Lake. With three competing roads—the Eureka and Palisade, the Nevada Central and the Virginia and Truckee—freights and fares will certainly be reduced, and should the Union Pacific Railroad Company extend their road south from Frisco, Belmont and the surrounding mining camps will be greatly benefited thereby. Railroads are wanted to open up the resources of Eastern and Southern Nevada. With railroads the farmer can get his produce to market at a reasonable figure and mining men can operate in districts that have long lain dormant.

In the settlement of a gas bill, which case was decided against St. Louis, the city will have to pay the gas company nearly a millions dollars in all. The company will then be able to pay 160 per cent. dividend.

The Jews in Jerusalem have advanced in numbers from 300 to 13,000 during this century, and are buying up all the land in and around it that they can obtain.

private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.
MIDDLE-AGED MEN.
There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system to a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary organs a ropy sediment will often be found and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milky hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance.
There are many men who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genital urinary organs.
